

My name is Scott Burrows. I run a business in Long Beach California called "Eversoft Inc". One year ago we purchased a program for our computer called "Visifax" that would allow Eversoft to send via fax billing statments to our existing customer base. This program has been a big success in that instead of printing 600-800 statments, manually stuffing them into a envelope, attaching stamps then expensing labor to deliver them to the post office, we simply fax these to our "existing" client base. Its a program that works for our company and saves a tremendous amount of time, labor, paper and resources to aid in the billing process of our company. Let me clarify, we do not use this new found way of faxing to solicit new business, promote products in anyway, simply to aid in our billing process on product that has already been delivered to the client. Please do not take away this ability for our company to save on so many different levels. PS: our clients on ballance pay their bills in a more timely mannor because of the new way we fax the billing information out to them!
